Full description

This remarkable and elegant castle is located on a plateau with a dominant position, it was built at the end of the 15th century and is registered as a historical monument. Restored over 18 years along with its outbuildings : Listed windmill, caretaker's house, lookout tower converted into accommodation, stables and barns converted into 2 reception halls, all set on 19 ha of grounds, formal garden, park, meadows and woods.

THE CASTLE :

The castle has undertaken a complete renovation supervised by the head architect of the Historic Monuments office.

Le château a fait l'objet d'une restauration complète supervisée par l'Architecte en Chef des Monuments Historiques. Despite tragic episodes and years of neglect it took 18 years to restore it to its former glory. Malgré des épisodes tragiques et des années d'abandon il fallut 18 années de travaux pour lui redonner son lustre. Remarkable witness of the pre-renaissance style, this castle offers plenty of character features and is one of the richest of its period in Quercy.

The body of the building, in the shape of a rectangle is raised on 2 levels above cellars and offers large sized and bright rooms featuring monumental fireplaces and terra cotta tiled floors.

The two main facades feature large mullioned windows which fill the rooms with abundant natural light, rare for castles of this period.

The mullioned windows of the main rooms are enhanced by carved framework, each different. The stained-glass windows are concealed by indoor vertical flap boards.

The staircase in particular, is an architectural masterpiece

This large outstanding staircase is twisted and spiral and unique in France underneath each step is finely carved and chiseled like lacework, The handrail is directly sculpted in the wall.

A work of art.

The main door, of carved walnut is a faithful copy of the original door, exposed in the entrance hall and is also a remarkable feature.

The entrance to the principal dwelling is via the main courtyard through a sculpted door, framed with carved mouldings and pinnacles. This massive double sided walnut door is protected by wood shutters.
